

David Malpica was born in Barquisimeto, Venezuela and began playing guitar when he was 16 years old. He holds Bachelor of Music degrees from the Universidad Cecilio Acosta in Maracaibo, Venezuela and Syracuse University. While attending Syracuse, he studied Classical Guitar with Dr. Kenneth Meyer. David has held operations positions for two LiveNation venues as well as a small independent ticket broker. In 2014 he began a career as a patient consultant in a Cannabis Dispensary. He is currently the dispensary manager for Herbal Alternatives, a medical marijuana dispensary in downtown Washington D.C. and continues to share his love for the guitar with his family and friends.
